Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Because of ongoing market volatility, Fund performance may be subject to substantial short-term changes.

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

Global equity markets posted steady gains in the fourth quarter of 2025, capping a year when international equities outperformed the broader U.S. averages. The Polaris Global Value Fund outperformed, gaining 6.87% (net of fees) vs. 3.12% for the MSCI World Index. The Polaris Global Value Fund posted double-digit gains from Switzerland, Canada, Spain, Italy, Hong Kong and emerging markets, South Korea and Chile. China, Taiwan, Puerto Rico and Belgium declined. At a sector level, the Fund dramatically outperformed in information technology (IT), followed by industrials, health care, consumer staples and utilities. Consumer discretionary, energy and real estate were in negative territory.

Among top contributors: Supply-demand constraints (stemming from AI) benefited memory chip suppliers SK hynix and Samsung Electronics; the market expects memory price increases in 2026. Lantheus Holdings advanced after reporting strong quarterly results backed by its flagship prostate cancer imaging agent. HD Hyundai Electric capitalized on increased demand to expand/upgrade power infrastructure. Lundin Mining Corp. announced record third-quarter revenues, profiting from higher realized copper prices. Chocolatier Barry Callebaut successfully navigated unprecedented cocoa price volatility while strengthening its balance sheet.

"Defensive" rotation was starkly illustrated by the consumer sectors, where staples took precedent over discretionary spends, as consumers were squeezed by elevated credit costs and persistent inflation even among necessities. As a result, U.S. beauty supplier Sally Beauty and Sony Group both declined during the quarter. The single worst performer was U.S. oil refiner Marathon Petroleum Corp.; investors voiced concerns about narrowing refining margins driven by a broad decline in crude oil prices.

The Fund sold five holdings, using proceeds to purchase three Asian financials (Chailease Holding Co., AIA Group Limited and Ping An Insurance).

As we enter 2026, international equities remain compelling following a structural performance shift over the past year. We are seeking to identifying situations where attractive valuations meet genuine business momentum anywhere in the world (both U.S. and non-U.S.). Our 2025 results illustrated how our value discipline paid off, and we will continue in this vein in 2026.

THE POLARIS GLOBAL VALUE FUND is a no-load mutual fund that seeks capital appreciation by investing in value stocks worldwide. The Fund is diversified across country, sector and market capitalization, and typically holds 65 to 100 stocks that meet Polaris’ strict value criteria.

Polaris Capital Management, LLC (the “Adviser”) uses proprietary investment technology combined with Graham & Dodd style fundamental research to identify potential investments. Filters are applied as part of the investment approach, which attempts to identify a list of companies with the most undervalued streams of sustainable free cash flow or assets worldwide. Polaris then conducts rigorous fundamental research on the companies identified in the screening process, subsequently making selections for Fund investment.

THE INVESTMENT ADVISER

Polaris Capital Management, LLC is a global value equity manager that provides investment services for institutional and individual clients. Polaris’ management believes worldwide markets are generally efficient over time, but investor behavior creates volatility that leads to inefficiency somewhere in the world. An integrated global investment strategy may be utilized to help exploit this inefficiency. Polaris believes investing in the most undervalued companies worldwide likely limits risk and has the potential for benchmark-beating returns.

Total return includes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. During the period some of the Fund’s fees were waived or expenses reimbursed. In the absence of these waivers and reimbursements, performance figures would be lower. The Fund invests in securities of foreign issuers, including issuers located in countries with emerging capital markets. Investments in such securities entail certain risks not associated with investments in domestic securities, such as volatility of currency exchange rates, and in some cases, political and economic instability and relatively illiquid markets. Options trading involves risk and is not suitable for all investors. On June 1, 1998, a limited partnership managed by the Adviser reorganized into the Fund. The predecessor limited partnership maintained an investment objective and investment policies that were, in all material respects, equivalent to those of the Fund. The Fund’s performance for periods before June 1, 1998, is that of the limited partnership and includes the expenses of the limited partnership. If the limited partnership’s performance had been readjusted to reflect the first year expenses of the Fund, the Fund’s performance for the periods prior to June 1, 1998, may have been lower. The limited partnership was not registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (“1940 Act”) and was not subject to certain investment limitations, diversification requirements, and other restrictions imposed by the 1940 Act and the Internal Revenue Code, which, if applicable, may have adversely affected its performance.

The MSCI World Index, net dividends reinvested measures the performance of a diverse range of global stock markets in the United States, Canada, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and the Far East. The MSCI World Index is unmanaged and does include the reinvestment of dividends, net of withholding taxes. One cannot invest directly in an index or an average.

The Treynor Measure is a risk-adjusted measure of return that divides a portfolio’s return in excess of the riskless return by its beta. Beta is the measure of a fund’s relative volatility as compared to an index. A fund with a beta higher than 1 is expected to be more volatile than the applicable index. Alpha is the difference between a fund’s actual returns and its expected performance given its level of risk as measured by beta. The Sharpe Ratio is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of an investment.
